

Biography

Zach Callahan (B. 1984) received a BA in English literature in 2006 from the University of Central Florida and soon after moved to New York City. He earned his MFA from the University of Hartford International Low Residency program in 2017, where he was awarded the Merit Scholarship both years. He currently lives and works in Los Angeles, California.

Education

2017 MFA, Photography, University of Hartford, Hartford, CT

2006 BA, English Literature, University of Central Florida, Orlando, FL

Group Exhibitions

2019 Stories We Tell Ourselves, Curated by Ashlyn Davis, Biola University, Earl and Virginia Green Gallery, La Mirada, CA

2018 Stories We Tell Ourselves, Curated by Ashlyn Davis, Wrong Gallery, Marfa, TX, USA

2017 13, Curated by Robert Lyons, Joseloff Gallery, Hartford, CT, USA

2016 Should Birds Attack, Curated by Robert Lyons, Kominek Gallery, Berlin, GERMANY

Online Features

2020 Booooooom, Photographer Spotlight

2018 Der Grief, Aristt Blog Solo Feature

2017 Humble Arts Foundation, This Years Hartford Photography MFA

Teaching

2019 Campbell Hall, Studio City CA - Visiting Artist, Guest Lecturer

2019 Biola University, La Mirada CA - Visiting Artist, Critiques

2017 Biola University, La Mirada CA - Visiting Artist, Critiques

2016 Las Fotos Project, Esteban Torres High School, Boyle Heights, CA - Visiting Artist

Writing

2006 Wax Poetics Magazine: Leader of the Free World: Jazzman Sam Rivers Helmed the New York Loft Scene and Charted a New Direction for Big Band

Awards

2016 University of Hartford, Merit Scholarship

2015 University of Hartford, Merit Scholarship